Below Market Rate Homebuyer Program

What is a Below Market Rate Home?

A Below Market Rate Home (often called a BMR) is a home that has certain deed restrictions recorded on the property which ensure the home remains affordable for future generations. BMRs are often a result of public investment in affordable housing developments or "inclusionary housing" policies which ensure affordable homes are built within market-rate developments.

How do I know if I qualify?

If you can answer yes to all of the following questions and you meet the income limits on the front of this flyer, then you may qualify. For more details, please review the Program Guidelines.

- Are you a First-Time Homebuyer? A first-time homebuyer is defined as someone who has not owned a home for at least three years.
- Do you have liquid assets to cover the down payment and closing costs? Your household must have at least 3% of the purchase price, seasoned in your financial accounts for the past three months.
- Do you meet the minimum household size requirement of 2 and maximum household size of 5 people?

What restrictions am I signing up for?

The most important restriction to understand is that your future selling price is restricted based on several factors including: the State of California Income Limits for Alameda County, the number of bedrooms, and the estimated future housing expenses of the household.

Can I rent out my home after I buy it?

No. The creation of affordable housing requires significant public investment. These resources come with certain conditions that must be met once the homes are built and they must be occupied by homeowners and can not be utilized as a second rental property.

Can I renovate my home after I buy it?

Yes. Any improvements you make to your home must meet all local and state building code requirements and be approved by your Home Owner's Association (HOA). However, please be aware that the maximum resale value of your home may not increase with new renovations or improvements.
